

been plotted from available information and, therefore, their locations shall be considered approximate only. The verification of the location of all underground utilities, either shall be located prior to any grading or construction of the improvements. of the Contractor, and shall